

The Wutheringington Diary

~Buffalo Bill and the Pony Express~

Fully restored color 9-12 edition

This book is available in print at many online retailers."

Copyright 2015 by Reynold Jay
Confectionery World: Restoration & Publishing Division
3024 Blossom Circle
Saginaw, Mi 48603
All rights reserved
1st edition
ISBN-
ISBN-

The Wutheringington Diary: Buffalo Bill and the Pony Express
Book Six in the Series

Copyright 2015 by Reynold Jay
Confectionery World: Restoration & Publishing
Division
3024 Blossom Circle
Saginaw, Mi 48603
All rights reserved
1st edition
ISBN-
ISBN-

Flesch-Kincaid Reading Grade Level is 3.9 suitable for 9 to 12. This edition is the abbreviated 4,000 word edition.
An edition for 9 to adult is available with 17,600 words.

Chapter One

October 10, 1883

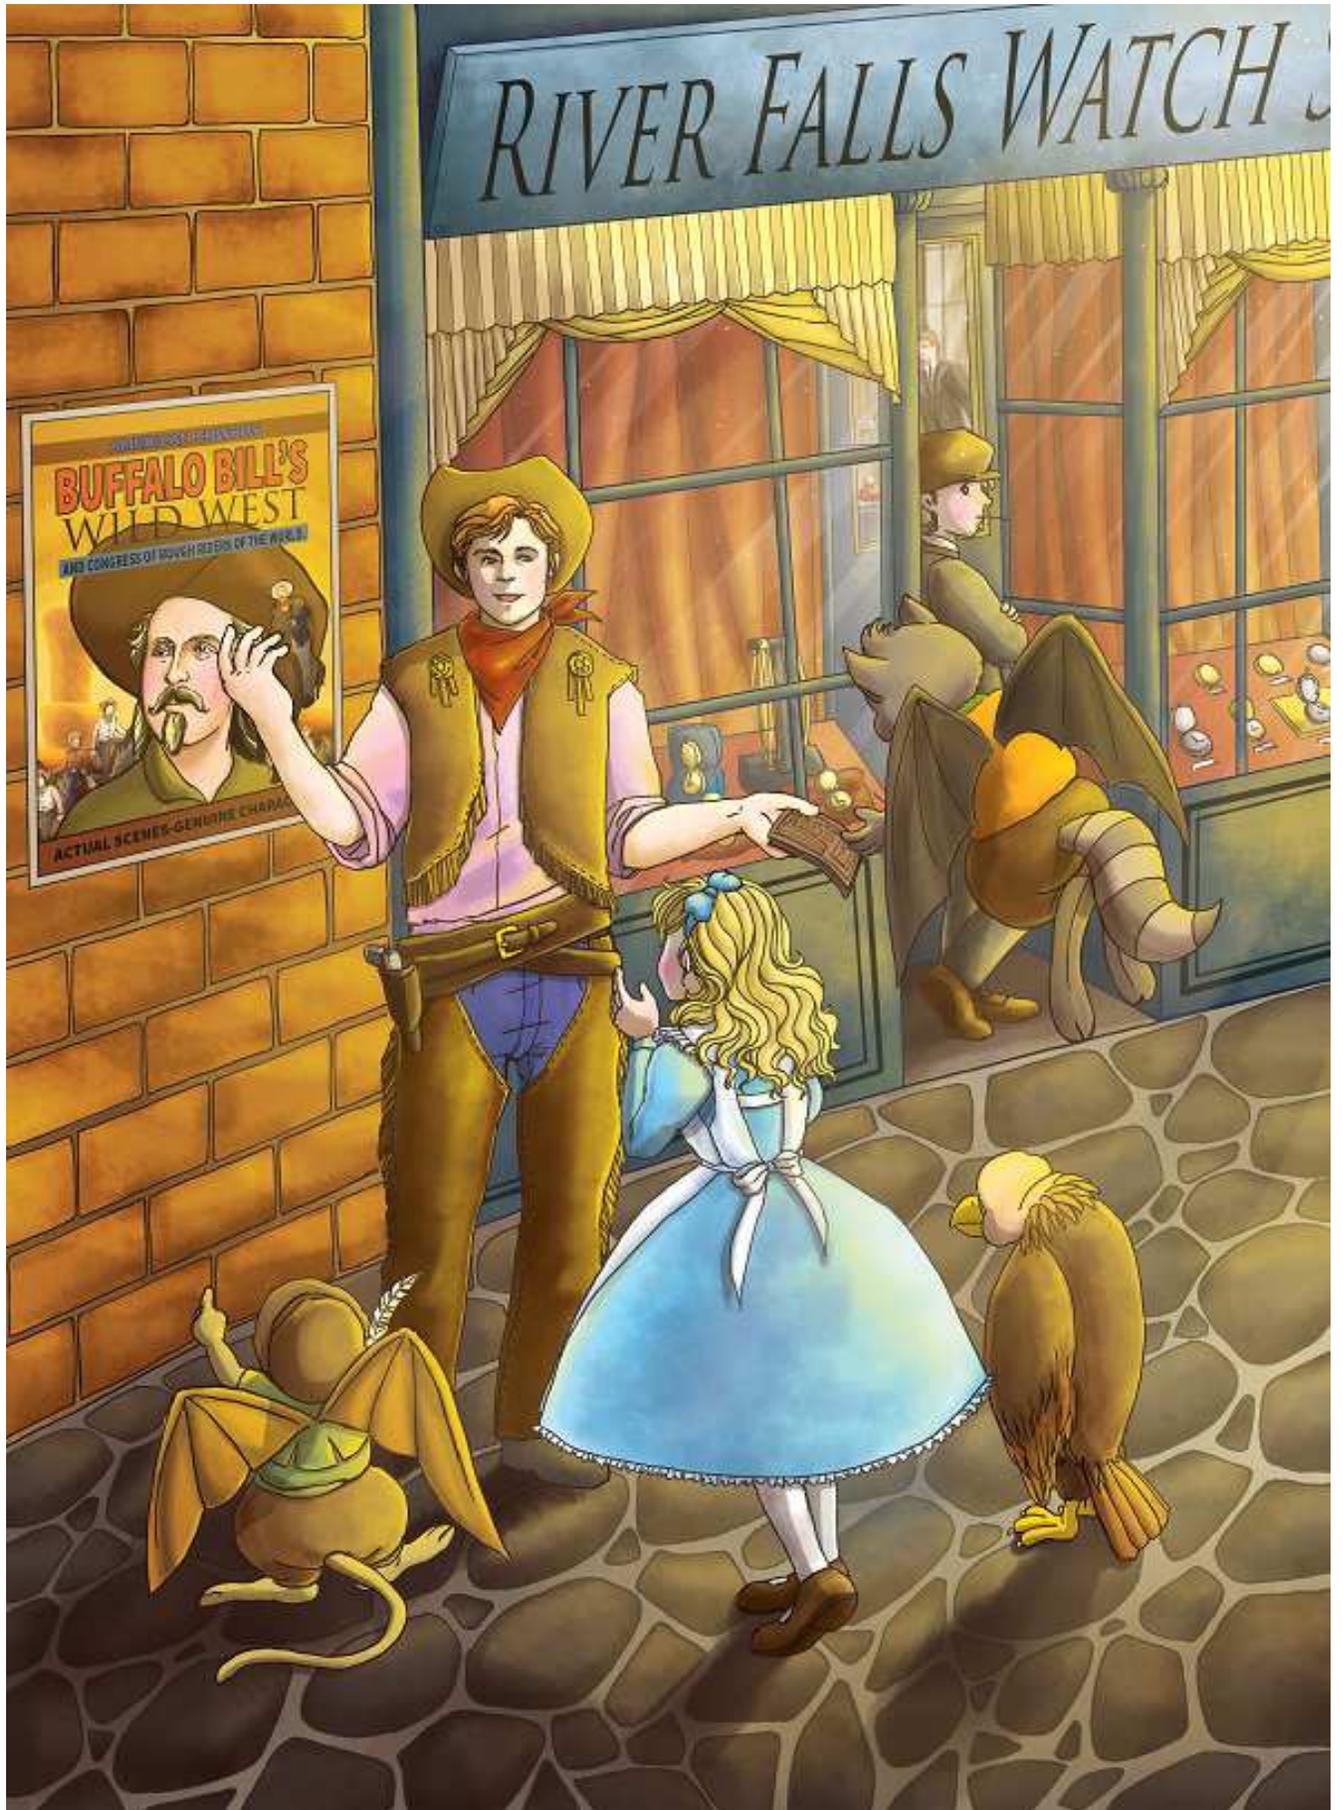

Dear Diary

Today's history lesson was curious indeed. That was the moment when I first suspected the space-time continuum may have slipped a tiny bit. Mrs. Prescott had us open our history books and there was a chapter on how the Indians had come to be extinct. The word, "extinct" was new to me and I raised my hand and inquired. She said, " It means they are no longer around. All of them are dead."

I felt sad for them and hoped I could help to bring them back.

Cedric and Zeke walked with me to the River Falls Watch Shop where a cowboy handed us a handbill and invited us to Buffalo Bill's Wild West that would soon be held in Columbus. We wanted to go. I figured it was much too far away.

Cedric and Zeke strolled back to our home and played with a pair of slingshots we had purchased. Alfred the Mouse magically appeared in a cloud of sprinkle dust. "We must make all haste!" he said. "Lucinda says the space-time continuum has really gone out of whack this time!" He pointed to the magic hourglass that was nearly out of sand. I could see we had only a few precious seconds until it would be too late.

We gathered in the shed and Alfred the Great said the magic words,

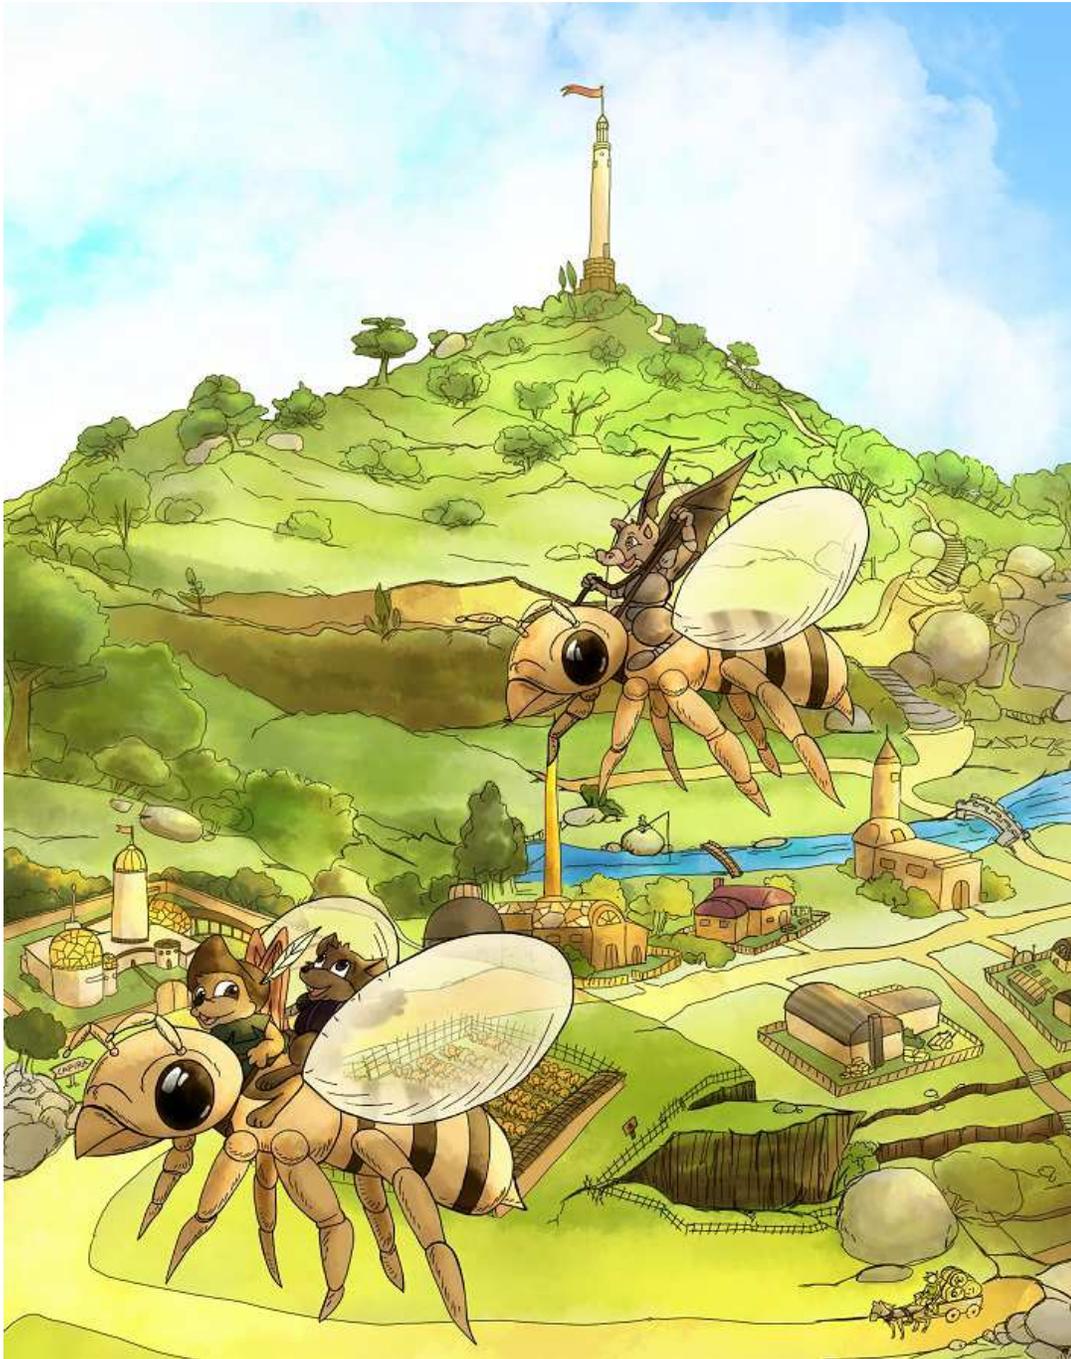

“Magic sands of time, hear our words today,
And whisk us back to Kira, up and away!”

Princess Lucinda explained that we must do what we could to bring back the Indians. She said, “The space-time-continuum went astray around 1860.” She brought out her crystal ball and we saw that the Pony Express had not been formed. “We must see that Mr. Majors meets with Russell, and Waddell and begin the Pony Express.”

We flew on our friends the bees to the village of Sakuna.
While we were visiting the Kakuna Indians, a big wind appeared out of nowhere. The blinding storm was upon us before we could gather our wits. I clutched my friends to me and held tightly to a tree while the roaring wave of destruction pushed over us. Cedric and Zeke shouted, "Help!"

Lucinda said, "I have never seen anything like it. For now, find something to hold on to as we do not wish to be blown away."

We held on tightly; however the Kukuna and the bees had disappeared!

Polly said, "Caw, caw, caw!"

Lucinda said, "I must send you back in time to save the Indians and the bees."

~End of sample chapter~